Summary of key findings

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands the importance of assessing children's progress. She demonstrates how she uses information gathered to plan activities that build on what children know and can do, to help them progress in their learning.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of child protection issues. She is aware of the signs and symptoms of abuse and is confident to report concerns to the relevant authorities.
- The childminder knows how to encourage children to maintain a healthy lifestyle and support their physical development. She conducts risk assessments to help minimise hazards to children.
- The childminder demonstrates how she implements effective methods to share information with parents. She talks with parents about their children's achievements and interests at home and at school.
- The childminder understands how to manage children's behaviour. She knows how to teach children to respect each other.
- The childminder understands how to evaluate her practice. She actively develops her professional knowledge and skills to help her make improvements.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
