Summary of key findings

This provision does not meet requirements

- The childminder has failed to notify Ofsted of a significant event that can affect the suitability of household members. This is a breach of welfare requirements and puts the safety and well-being of children at risk.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of child protection procedures and what steps to follow if she has any safeguarding concerns regarding minded children.
- The childminder has the required public liability and first aid in place.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of behaviour management.
- The childminder is aware of working with parents and other agencies sharing children's progress.
- The childminder demonstrates an understanding of reviewing children's learning and development and keeping her training up to date.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

What does the setting need to do to improve?

To meet the requirements of the early years foundation stage and Childcare Register the provider must:

	Due date
ensure Ofsted is informed of any significant event which can affect the suitability of the early years provider or any persons who have regular contact with children.	07/02/2020

Inspection activities

- This inspection was carried out as part of the risk assessment process.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder about her practice and her safeguarding understanding.
- The inspector observed the main areas used for minding.
- The inspector reviewed the childminder's first-aid certificate, public liability and the suitability for household members.

We carried out this inspection under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

If you are not happy with the inspection or the report, you can complain to Ofsted.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, further education and skills, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
