Summary of key findings

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a suitable understanding of the learning and development requirements of the early years foundation stage. She demonstrates a secure understanding of the planning, observation and assessment process to support individual children's progress. The environment is suitably resourced to meet the needs of the different age groups of children.
- The childminder understands her duty to identify and eliminate potential risks to children, to promote their welfare and ensure they can play safely. She has a clear understanding of how to safeguard children and how to seek advice and support, should she have any concerns.
- The childminder recognises the value of working in partnership with parents to help ensure consistency in children's care and learning. She is aware of the importance of gathering useful information from them when children start at her setting, to support children in settling swiftly.
- The childminder has high expectations regarding children's behaviour. She describes how she will manage their behaviour in positive ways and build sharing, turn taking and an understanding of others into daily activities.
- The childminder has a positive attitude towards inclusion. She understands the importance of working in partnership with parents and other professionals to meet children's needs.
- The childminder understands how to evaluate her practice to identify ways of improving children's experiences.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
