Summary of key findings

This provision meets requirements

- The provider has a clear understanding of how to safeguard children. She knows the possible signs and symptoms of abuse and neglect and how to refer any concerns to the relevant authorities.
- Daily checks and risk assessments are completed to identify and remove any potential hazards to children.
- The provider explains how she uses a range of teaching skills to meet children's individual learning styles and to support the curriculum. She has systems in place to observe and monitor children's progress and to swiftly identify any gaps in their learning.
- The provider has high expectations for children's behaviour. She explains how she will help children to develop positive relationships, and how she incorporates into daily activities the skills of sharing, turn taking and learning to respect others.
- The provider explains how she builds secure bonds with children to promote their emotional well-being and independence.
- The provider recognises the value of working closely with parents to promote children's progress.
- The provider keeps her knowledge up to date and refreshes her skills regularly through online training.
- The provider provides a personalised approach to learning, where staff consult children and follow their interests. Key persons use their ongoing assessments to identify children's next steps in learning. Each day, the key persons have a small group of children to focus on their learning.

There were no children in the early years age range present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no early years children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- This was the first routine inspection the setting received since the COVID-19 pandemic began. The inspector discussed the impact of the pandemic with the provider and has taken that into account in their evaluation of the setting.
- The provider and the inspector carried out a learning walk together of the provision, and discussed how they intend to implement the curriculum.
- The inspector observed the provider's understanding of the quality of education indoors and outdoors.
- The inspector reviewed evidence of staff's suitability.

We carried out this inspection under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

If you are not happy with the inspection or the report, you can complain to Ofsted.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, further education and skills, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
